Fitness Program

Get up to $150 back for joining and using a gym

Among other things, regular physical activity can help you to reduce cholesterol and high blood pressure, manage your weight, maintain bone strength and muscle tone, and even boost your mood.

The Fitness Program helps you stay motivated by offering you big incentives to adopt a more active life. Complete 120 workouts in 365 days, and you'll be eligible for a reimbursement of up to $150.

How do I get started?

- 1. Choose an approved fitness center. Refer to page 3 for information about selecting an approved facility.
- 2. Enroll in the Fitness Program. Log on to www.amerihalthexpress.com and select Healthy Lifestyles. Then, choose Fitness Program. Or call us at 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles). TDD/TTY users may call 1-888-857-4816.
- 3. Record your workouts. Record each workout using one of the methods listed on page 3. After you complete 120 workouts, you won't need to record workouts again until your anniversary date,<sup>1</sup> when we will automatically re-enroll you in the Fitness Program.

- 4. Request your reimbursement.<sup>2</sup> Send to us the following:
  - a completed reimbursement form (located on page 27);
  - proof of payment, such as a fitness facility receipt or member contract;
  - if you do not use the telephone system: send a record of your workouts (the handbook or a computer printout of your workouts from your gym).

Mail your form and documentation to:

AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles
Fitness Program
1901 Market Street
P.O. Box 41880
Philadelphia, PA 19101-9131

What else do I need to know?

Selecting an approved fitness center

The Fitness Program rewards you for incorporating a well-rounded exercise program into your routine. To be eligible for the fitness center reimbursement, you must choose a full-service facility that offers a variety of cardiovascular, flexibility, and resistance training in a supervised setting.

Membership at athletic clubs that focus primarily on a single competitive or recreational sports activity will not qualify for the reimbursement because they generally don't provide you with the facilities to practice all the components of a balanced exercise program.

Eligible facilities

Full-service fitness centers generally feature most of the following amenities:

- group exercise classes (aerobics, spinning, body sculpting, etc.)
- resistance training equipment
- free weights
- cardiovascular training equipment (e.g. treadmills, stationary bicycles, stair climbers)
- pool for swimming laps
- track for running/walking

Ineligible facilities

Examples of ineligible programs/facilities include:

- tennis/squash/racquetball
- basketball
- golf
- Pilates/yoga class
- martial arts/karate class
- sports leagues
- swim clubs
- dance instruction
- outdoor "boot camp" style program

Recording your workouts

To receive your reimbursement, record your workout each time you visit your gym. You may record only one workout per day with a minimum of eight hours between logged workouts. If you exercise at a facility other than your usual gym, record your visit by requesting a computer printout or logging it in the AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles Fitness Handbook.

Use the recording method that's best for you:

Telephone. If you attend a gym that participates in the AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles fitness network, you can record your workouts through an automated system on a phone designated by the gym.

Handbook. Print the AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles Fitness Handbook from www.amerithealthexpress.com and take it with you for each gym visit. Ask an employee to date and sign the handbook to record your workout. This is also the handbook you should use to log workouts at facilities other than your regular gym.

Get out there and move your body: you'll feel better and enjoy greater health all around.

<sup>1</sup> For the purposes of the Fitness Program, your anniversary date is the date you enrolled with AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles. Your Fitness Program anniversary date should not be confused with the date you joined the fitness center.

<sup>2</sup> We will issue only one reimbursement per member per 365-day enrollment period.

Healthy Weight, Healthy You

Get up to $200 when you attend an approved weight-loss program

No ever one said weight loss would be easy, but support from others can make the challenges feel more manageable. Enroll in a weight-loss program, and you can get encouragement to stick with it for the long haul. Complete your program and we'll reimburse you up to $200 annually for program fees.

How do I get started?

1. Select and sign up for an approved weight-loss program. Refer to page 5 for information about choosing a program.

2. Register for the Healthy Weight, Healthy You program. Tell us you've signed up for an approved weight-loss program by enrolling in the Healthy Weight, Healthy You program. Select Healthy Lifestyles on www.amerithealthexpress.com, then choose Healthy Weight, Healthy You. Or call 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles). TDD/TTY users may call 1-888-857-4816.

3. Attend your approved program. Stick with it. A healthy weight reduces your risk for heart disease, high blood pressure, diabetes, and stroke, just to name a few.

4. Request your reimbursement. Request your reimbursement no more than 90 days after your anniversary<sup>1</sup> of enrolling in the Healthy Weight, Healthy You program. Send to us the following:

- a completed reimbursement form (located on page 27);
- completed Weight Watchers® membership books or receipts from a network hospital-based or youth program.

Mail your form and documentation to:

AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles
Weight Management Program
1901 Market Street, P.O. Box 41880
Philadelphia, PA 19101-9131

What else do I need to know?

Selecting an approved weight-loss program

Choose Weight Watchers® and attend weekly meetings, or opt for an approved weight management program based at a network hospital. Some weight management programs for youths under age 18 may also be eligible for reimbursement. If you like, you may join more than one program per year; however, the maximum reimbursement you can receive is $200 total per year.

Visit www.weightwatchers.com or call 1-800-651-6000 to find a Weight Watchers® location. Find a network hospital in your area by reviewing the provider directory at www.amerithealthexpress.com or by calling our Health Resource Center at 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles).

For questions about the eligibility of other programs, including programs for individuals under age 18, contact our Health Resource Center.

Additional resources available to you

Visit the Healthy Weight, Healthy You section of amerithealthexpress.com for tools that can help you and your family members achieve and maintain your ideal weight.

Available resources include:

- details about free nutritional counseling sessions;<sup>2</sup>
- information about Health Coaches<sup>2</sup> and how they can assist you with your weight-management goals;
- answers to frequently asked questions about weight-related health issues;
- sample jogging and walking programs;
- body mass index (BMI) calculator;
- a list of health-related websites.

Obesity among Americans, both adults and children, has doubled over the past two decades. More than half of women age 20 and older and two-thirds of men are overweight or obese.

<sup>1</sup> Your anniversary occurs 365 days after you enrolled in the Healthy Weight, Healthy You program.

While a little stress can be positive, spurring you on to greater productivity and helping you to perform better, severe or prolonged stress can actually threaten your health. It's been linked to six of the leading causes of death, including heart disease and cancer.<sup>1</sup>

Through AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles, you can discover ways to let go of stress or transform it into positive energy.

How can AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles help me reduce stress?

Request a free stress management CD. This audio guide will help you learn to balance your life, manage your stress, and do more in less time. Along with the CD, you'll receive a booklet that describes stress reduction techniques. To request your free CD, complete and return the form on page 27.

Practice stress management techniques. Some stress is normal, but too much can affect your quality of life and your health. To loosen the grasp stress has on you, try some of these techniques:

- Exercise. Regular physical activity can boost your mood and is one of the most effective stress management techniques.

- Make choices for a healthier lifestyle. This includes not smoking, limiting alcohol consumption, and maintaining a healthy diet.
- Express your feelings. This is part of the emotional healing process.
- Write or keep a journal. Research has proven that expressing one's self in writing is an effective way to reduce stress.
- Relax. Take a few deep breaths. Talk to a friend. Practice yoga. Knit. If it calms you down, it fights stress.
- Get enough sleep. Your body recovers from the stress of the day while you are asleep.

Make time for sleep

Eight is enough

Getting enough sleep is essential for good health and mental and emotional functioning. It's also critical for safety: the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration says drowsiness causes more than 100,000 traffic accidents a year. So how much sleep is enough? The amount will vary by individual, but on average, most adults need about eight hours per night. To calculate the amount that's right for you, figure out how long you need to sleep until you can awaken without an alarm clock and feel fully rested.

Tips for better sleep

According to National Sleep Foundation surveys, 60 percent of adults said they have sleep problems at least a few nights a week. And more than 40 percent of adults surveyed reported daytime sleepiness severe enough to interfere with their daily activities at least a few days each month.<sup>2</sup> If you find yourself in this same boat, consider trying these techniques to help you sleep better:

- Avoid caffeine and nicotine. Both are stimulants, which can keep you from falling asleep.
- Avoid alcohol. Alcohol might help you relax and fall asleep, but it causes disruptions throughout the night.
- Limit food and beverages before bedtime. A full stomach can make you less comfortable going to sleep, especially if you have a heavy meal, eat spicy food, or drink lots of fluids.
- Exercise. Exercise contributes to better sleep, provided you don't do it just before going to bed.
- Use bedtime relaxation techniques. A relaxing, routine activity, such as a warm bath, reading, or listening to music, may make falling asleep easier.
- Create a sleep-promoting environment. Keep your bedroom cool, quiet, dark, and free of noise and bright lights. Your mattress should be comfortable and supportive.
- Keep a regular sleep calendar. Perhaps you've heard of "circadian rhythms" — your body's sense of the 24-hour clock. Your body wants to sleep between midnight and 6 a.m., even if you work the night shift.

Once a state of short-term emotional strain that prepared us to fight or flee when threatened with danger, stress has become a more commonplace fixture in our lives.

Tobacco Cessation

Get up to $200 back when you complete a program to help you quit

Quitting isn't easy, and many people try more than once before they succeed. To help you quit for good, Healthy Lifestyles will reimburse you up to $200 for completing a tobacco cessation program.

If you're 18 or older and your program costs less than $200, you may apply the difference toward reimbursement of nicotine replacement products or medications prescribed to you to help you quit.<sup>1</sup>

How do I get started?

- 1. Select and sign up for a program to help you quit. Refer to page 9 for information about selecting a program that will work for you.
- 2. Tell us you've registered for a tobacco cessation program. Tell us you're ready to quit by enrolling for the Tobacco Cessation incentive. Log on to www.amerihalthexpress.com and select Healthy Lifestyles. Then, choose Tobacco Cessation. Or call 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles). TDD/TTY users may call 1-888-857-4816.
- 3. Complete your participation in the approved program.

4. Request your reimbursement.

Send to us the following:

- a completed reimbursement form (located on page 27);
- a description of your program;
- proof of your enrollment;
- all program receipts and receipts for nicotine replacement or other medications prescribed to you to help you quit.<sup>1</sup>

Mail your form and documentation to:

AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles
Tobacco Cessation Program
1901 Market Street
P.O. Box 41880
Philadelphia, PA 19101-9131

What else do I need to know?

Selecting a tobacco cessation program

No matter who you are, you can find a program that will give you the type of support and encouragement you need to kick the habit. Eligible programs include those that focus on behavior modification and provide frequent and regular support such as weekly meetings or telephone-based sessions.<sup>2</sup>

To help you locate the program that's right for you, amerihealthexpress.com has compiled a list of regionally and nationally recognized programs offered in your area with descriptions for each. You'll discover the wide variety of choices offered, including group-support style programs and programs that offer more individualized attention. You can even find out which ones will help you learn to manage stress, avoid weight gain, and overcome the barriers to quitting.

Many hospitals also lead smoking cessation programs. If you prefer this option, check with the network hospitals in your area. You can find a network hospital in your area by reviewing the provider directory at www.amerihealthexpress.com or by calling our Health Resource Center at 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles).

Quitting other forms of tobacco

There are 28 known cancer-causing substances in chewing tobacco, spit tobacco, and other smokeless tobacco products. All smokeless tobacco contains nicotine, so it's just as addictive as cigarettes. And if you use any form of smokeless tobacco, you put yourself at an increased risk for serious health conditions including tooth decay, gum disease, and oral cancers of the lip, tongue, cheeks, gums, throat, and floor and roof of your mouth. So if you're using smokeless tobacco, make a commitment to quit today. Many of the smoking cessation programs that are eligible for our reimbursement also support individuals who want to quit using smokeless tobacco.

Support is available from the National Cancer Institute

Even if you're just starting to think about quitting, request a free copy of Clearing the Air, a self-study booklet from the National Cancer Institute that will help you mentally prepare for and begin your tobacco-free life. You'll learn to anticipate and plan for the challenges you'll face while quitting, including techniques for fighting the urge to smoke, methods for avoiding temptation, and ways to avoid weight gain. Complete the order form in the back of the booklet, or contact us at 1-800-275-2583 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. ET (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles). TDD/TTY users may call 1-888-857-4816.

If you're pregnant and enrolled in our Baby FootSteps program, call Healthy Lifestyles to inquire about our free tobacco cessation program.

Get help quitting with HealthMedia® Breathe™

As part of the Connections Health Management Program, a HealthMedia lifestyle management program is available to help you quit smoking. The HealthMedia Breathe program is tailored to your specific needs based on your answers to a short survey. Your personalized wellness plan will include motivational tips, tools, and support to help you stay on track. To start, visit www.amerihealthexpress.com and click on Connections. Then click on the Dialog Center. The program is located on the Healthy Living tab.

The best way to live and stay healthy is to prevent health problems before they surface. Yet no matter how well you take care of yourself, the effects of heredity, the environment, and other factors mean you could still get sick.

That's where early detection comes in. By scheduling regular health screenings, you're more likely to identify and treat a potential problem during its early stages. And early detection and early treatment mean you have the best chances for a complete recovery.

Knowledge is power

We've listed the most important health screenings for women and men on the following pages. Information is your best first line of defense, so amerihealthexpress.com also offers articles about the health conditions these screenings identify. You'll learn about risk factors, prevention, screening, and more, so you'll understand how these tests can help keep you healthy.

Wellness Guidelines

Turn your knowledge into action by checking out our Wellness Guidelines, which will help you remember when to schedule nationally recommended health screenings. Print a copy at www.amerihalthexpress.com under Family Health on the Healthy Lifestyles page, or request a free copy at 1-800-275-2583 (prompt 1 for member information, then prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles). Share these guidelines with your health care provider to determine how to add preventive screenings into your wellness plan.

In the event your screenings do what they're intended to do and detect a change in your health, know that you're not alone. Our Connections<sup>SM</sup> Health Management Programs<sup>1</sup> can offer you information and support to make health decisions that are right for you. To learn more, turn to page 24.

Screenings for men

Cholesterol

High cholesterol increases your risk for heart disease, heart attack, and stroke. Fortunately, it's also a risk you can control through diet, exercise, and other healthy lifestyle changes. If these changes don't completely normalize your blood fats, medication can also help. Starting at age 20, adults should have their cholesterol checked every five years.

Colorectal cancer

Colorectal cancer is cancer that begins in the large intestine or rectum. It is the third leading cause of cancer death among men in the United States, but with early diagnosis and treatment, the five-year survival rate is greater than 90 percent. For persons of average risk, screening should begin at age 50. Several methods exist to detect colorectal cancer. The frequency of screening depends on the screening method used.

Prostate cancer

According to the American Cancer Society, one in 35 men will die of prostate cancer, making it the leading cause of cancer death among men worldwide. Prostate cancer often does not cause symptoms for many years, so by the time symptoms occur, the disease may have spread beyond the prostate. Starting at age 50, discuss screening options with your health care provider.

Abdominal aortic aneurysm (AAA)

An undetected aneurysm that bursts can be deadly. Due to the major risk associated with AAA, screening is recommended once for men aged 65 – 75 who have ever smoked. Screening is done using an ultrasound.

<sup>1</sup> The Connections Health Management Programs are available to most members. Please refer to your member materials for the terms, limitations, and exclusions of your health care coverage, or call Customer Service at the number on the back of your medical ID card to find out if you are eligible.

Screenings for women

Chlamydia

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), chlamydia is the most frequently reported bacterial sexually transmitted disease in the United States today.

Chlamydia spreads through unprotected sex with an infected person or can pass from mother to infant during childbirth. All sexually active females age 25 and under should be screened. Pregnant women should also be screened. Because symptoms are often absent, screening is important for anyone who could be exposed. When symptoms do occur, they can include abnormal genital discharge or bleeding and pain or burning during urination. Left untreated, chlamydia can cause pelvic inflammatory disease, chronic pelvic pain, and even infertility. Screening for women consists of a simple vaginal/cervical swab. Once diagnosed, chlamydia can be treated and cured easily with antibiotics.

Cholesterol

High cholesterol increases your risk for heart disease, heart attack, and stroke. Fortunately, it's also a risk you can control through diet, exercise, and other healthy lifestyle changes. If these changes don't completely normalize your blood fats, medication can also help. Starting at age 20, adults should have their cholesterol checked every five years.

Breast cancer

According to the American Cancer Society, one in eight women will develop invasive breast cancer. Early detection through routine mammograms, clinical breast examination by a doctor or nurse, and self-examination gives the best chance for successful treatment and full recovery.

Cervical cancer and human papillomavirus (HPV)

A Pap test consists of a simple, painless vaginal swab and is the best way to screen for precancerous cell changes that could develop into cervical cancer. This precancerous condition can be caused by infection from a virus called HPV. A Pap test can usually show whether you have any abnormal cell changes. Your regular health care provider can administer the Pap test during a stand-alone appointment or as part of your routine annual physical.

If you are age 30 or older and have had several consecutive normal Pap tests, you may have an alternative to annual Pap tests. With this option, you will receive a standard or liquid-based Pap test every three years in conjunction with an HPV DNA test. Discuss this option with your health care provider to determine if this alternative is right for you.

Colorectal cancer

Colorectal cancer is cancer that begins in the large intestine or rectum. It is one of the leading causes of cancer death in the United States, but with early diagnosis and treatment, the five-year survival rate is greater than 90%. For persons at average risk, screening should begin at age 50. Several methods exist to detect colorectal cancer. The frequency of screening depends on the screening method used.

Osteoporosis

Osteoporosis is the thinning of bones resulting in the loss of bone density over time. Bones are then weaker, more brittle, and more likely to break, even without injury. There are several methods used to measure bone density, which is the screening for osteoporosis. All women should begin routine screening at age 65. Women with an increased risk for fractures may begin screening at age 60. In addition to talking with your doctor, you can learn about your osteoporosis risk by completing the Fracture Risk Assessment in the Women's Health section of Healthy Lifestyles at www.amerihealththexpress.com.

Hormonal changes from menopause increase women's risk for osteoporosis, heart disease, stroke, and some cancers. Women should, therefore, be especially careful to protect their health at this phase in their lives.

To keep yourself healthy, you may wish to seek services from alternative or complementary health practitioners in addition to visiting your regular doctors. Through ChooseHealthy™, you can save money on many of these services and also receive a discount on a wide variety of health and wellness products.<sup>1</sup>

ChooseHealthy is a product of American Specialty Health Networks, Inc. and Healthyroads, Inc., subsidiaries of American Specialty Health Incorporated, a leader in complementary and alternative health care.

Enjoy the the benefits of complementary health services

Practitioners in the ChooseHealthy network offer you discounts of up to 25 percent off their usual fees.

Discounted services<sup>1</sup>

- Acupuncture. For more than 5,000 years, acupuncturists have treated many conditions by inserting fine needles into the skin at specific points on the body called acupuncture points. This treatment is thought to normalize physiological functions, modify or prevent the perception of pain, and encourage the body's own healing abilities.

- Massage. Massage employs touch to treat the muscular structures of the body. It's used to relieve stress, relax tense muscles, increase blood flow, soothe aches and pains, and improve general well-being.

- Dietetic counseling. A dietitian can provide a wealth of information and guidance, whether you want to lose weight, deal with a chronic condition, change to a vegetarian diet, make healthy food choices, and more.

Safety Program

Get up to $25 back when you take a safety or first-aid course or buy a bike helmet

Wear your seatbelt. Look both ways before you cross the street. Keep sharp objects out of the reach of children. Many of us follow common precautions like these to protect ourselves from hurt or injury.

To encourage you to increase the techniques you use to keep yourself and your family safe, we'll reimburse you up to $25 annually for completing either a first-aid or safety course and up to $25 for a bicycle helmet for each eligible member of your family.

Register for a first-aid or safety course

Select from courses offered by any of these three national organizations:

American Red Cross. The Red Cross offers courses in first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), automated external defibrillator (AED) essentials, sports safety, babysitter's training, and more. To learn about the full range and descriptions of courses offered, visit www.redcross.org or call 1-800-422-7677.

American Heart Association (AHA). AHA courses include Heartsaver® CPR, AED, and first-aid. Two-year certification courses provide instruction on adult/child CPR and AED use and teach emergency responses to choking and medical and injury emergencies. You can also receive reimbursement for the CPR Anytime™ and Infant CPR Anytime™ self-directed programs, which teach adult, child, and infant CPR, AED use, and emergency responses to choking. These programs are 22 minutes in length and can be shared with loved ones. For details, please visit www.americanheart.org/cpr or call 1-877-AHA-4CPR.

American Safety & Health Institute (ASHI). ASHI is an organization of professional safety and health educators. Its courses include CPR, AED, and a variety of types of first-aid. For more information, call 1-800-246-5101 or visit www.ashinstitute.org.

Buy a bicycle helmet

Make sure the helmet you choose has a sticker that shows it meets the Consumer Product Safety Commission standard or that it's certified by the Snell Memorial Foundation. You may receive one helmet reimbursement per eligible member per year.

To protect yourself, always wear a helmet when riding a bike or scooter, rollerblading, or skateboarding. Helmets can prevent serious head and brain injuries and can even save your life. In many states, the law requires that kids younger than a certain age wear a helmet when riding a bike. In Pennsylvania, the law applies to kids younger than 12; in New Jersey, 17 and younger; and in Delaware, 16 and younger. If you have an infant, ask your doctor when the baby's neck will be strong enough to support a helmet.

Get reimbursed<sup>1</sup>

Mail your receipt and a completed reimbursement form (located on page 27) to the following address within 90 days of completing a course or purchasing a helmet:

AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles
Safety Program
1901 Market Street
P.O. Box 41880
Philadelphia, PA 19101-9131

Learn more about safety

Helmets can prevent serious head and brain injuries and can even save your life.

<sup>1</sup> We will issue only one course reimbursement per member per 365-day program period. You must be a member of an AmeriHealth health plan at the time of course enrollment and completion in order to receive your reimbursement. We will not reimburse you if information is falsified. For bicycle helmets, you may receive one helmet reimbursement per member per 365-day period (based on purchase date).

Despite the advances in modern medicine, you're still the one with the greatest influence over the quality and length of your life. In fact, your daily choices affect your long-term health and well-being more than anything else.

The family health resources available to you through AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles provide you with information about important health issues and give you the tools and support you need to make smart lifestyle choices for yourself and your family.

AmeriHealth Healthy Lifestyles Keys to Wellness

Through the Keys to Wellness program, a licensed nurse will work directly with you and your health care provider to encourage and support you as you strive to adopt healthy behaviors. With the support of your doctor, the Healthy Lifestyles Keys to Wellness nurse will help you improve your chances of staying well by:

- talking with you over the phone to identify possible health risk factors related to your behaviors, nutrition, and environment;
- working with you to design a personalized action plan that will help you make changes to improve or maintain your health;

- providing you with information about your risk factors, tips for improving self-management skills, and references to available resources.

If you're interested in speaking with a Healthy Lifestyles Keys to Wellness nurse, call 1-800-313-8628 or 215-567-3570.

Wellness Guidelines

One of the best ways to stay well is to take advantage of the preventive care your health benefit plan offers, such as routine physicals, immunizations, and health screenings. To help you keep track of which preventive services you and your family members should receive and how often, refer to our Wellness Guidelines.

The Wellness Guidelines are based on national preventive care recommendations. Share these guidelines with your regular health care provider so, together, you can determine how best to incorporate them into your overall wellness plan.

Check out the Wellness Guidelines at www.amerihalthexpress.com under the Family Health link on the Healthy Lifestyles page, or request a free copy by calling 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles).

Website for adolescents and their parents

Adolescence is a time when many kids begin to cultivate the health habits they'll carry with them for the rest of their lives. To help you take advantage of this opportunity to teach and encourage your adolescent to make healthy choices, visit www.amerihalth.com/youth

You'll find information about physical activity, nutrition, immunizations, and many other health topics specific to adolescence. You can also read articles to help you deal with the challenges of parenting a teen or pre-teen. A separate section for kids is designed to help them understand how their choices affect their health and gain the confidence to make smart lifestyle decisions.

Adoption education

Whether you're adopting a child or just considering it, you can receive our free Adoption Education packet by calling us at 1-800-275-2583 (select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 4 for Healthy Lifestyles) or by visiting the Family Health section of Healthy Lifestyles at www.amerihalthexpress.com. The packet contains information that will help you get ready to welcome and care for your new family member. You'll learn about pre-adoption preparations, bonding with your new child, medical considerations (including pediatric immunizations), child safety, and more.

In the meantime, be sure to add your new son or daughter to your medical insurance coverage. To do so, contact your group's plan administrator or call Customer Service at the telephone number on the back of your medical ID card.

Thinking about pregnancy? You may not know you're pregnant until weeks after you've conceived, so talk with your health care provider now about smart choices you can make to be prepared.

Babies enter the world with no experience and a lifetime of learning ahead of them. If you're a first-time mom, you might feel you're beginning parenthood in a similar condition. And if you're a practiced parent, you know each new arrival marks the beginning of a fresh adventure.

Baby FootSteps will help you prepare to welcome your baby by providing you with prenatal resources and information about each stage of your pregnancy and your child's development.

Your enrollment in Baby FootSteps is automatic when you or your OB provider notify us that you're pregnant. To get more information or to enroll, call 1-800-598-BABY.

A healthy pregnancy, a healthy start

Baby FootSteps offers you the following tools, resources, and reimbursements so you can feel informed and confident throughout your entire pregnancy:

- an overview of your baby's development during each trimester;
- information about some of the physiological changes you could experience each trimester;
- risk factor identification and periodic health assessments;
- up to a $50 reimbursement for attending a parenting class (childbirth preparation, prenatal exercise, education of expectant siblings, etc.);<sup>1</sup>
- Mother's Option®, your choice of care after delivery;
- up to $50 reimbursement for a breast pump;<sup>1</sup>
- up to $100 reimbursement for the services of a lactation consultant;<sup>1</sup>
- a free telephone-based tobacco cessation program to help you and/or members of your household to quit smoking.

Help for high-risk pregnancies

Our risk factor questionnaire can help you and your provider determine whether you might be at risk for premature delivery or medical complications during your pregnancy. If you need special care, our obstetrical nurse case managers will work with you and your physician or midwife every step of the way to help you have the healthiest delivery possible. You can expect individualized education on how to reduce risk factors, as well as coordination of home care services as recommended by your doctor or midwife. If you think your pregnancy could be high-risk, call 1-800-598-BABY.

Add your newborn to your health plan

Enroll your child in your medical benefits plan as soon as possible by talking with your employer's benefits administrator or by calling our Customer Service department. You don't need your child's social security number to start the process: just submit the enrollment paperwork now, and provide us with the number once you have it.

Remember to take care of yourself

Just as your prenatal visits are important for both you and your baby, it is just as important to schedule your postpartum visit four to six weeks after your baby is born.

<sup>1</sup> You must be an active member at the time of program enrollment, purchase, or redemption. We will issue only one reimbursement per pregnancy.

Health care services described in this brochure are part of the Perinatal Program and are subject to the terms, limitations, and exclusions of your health care benefit program.

CorCell® — saving baby's cord blood®

Save $350 when you invest in your baby's future health

The blood in your baby's umbilical cord is a rich source of stem cells. Cord blood stem cells can develop into blood cells including the type that make up the immune system. Collected and carefully stored minutes after the birth of your child, these cells could eventually be used to treat your child for an ever increasing number of serious diseases.

Today, cord blood stem cells are being used to treat more than 70 diseases, and many clinical trials are underway to develop even more ways to use them.

Take advantage of this promise for the future

If you would like to save your child's cord blood, CorCell,<sup>1</sup> an industry leader in cord blood banking, offers members of AmeriHealth a $350 discount (more than 18 percent) on cord blood collection.

To learn more about saving your baby's cord blood stem cells with CorCell, visit www.corcell.com or call at 1-888-326-7235.

Understand your choices

While you may choose to save your baby's cord blood for your baby's or your family's future use, you may also choose to donate it to a public cord blood bank or have it discarded at birth. Before you decide, be sure you understand the potential uses for cord blood and the difference between donating it and storing it for your family's use.

Cord blood donation for public use

Donated cord blood is not reserved for your family's private use. If you donate your baby's cord blood to a public cord blood bank, it will be preserved, stored, and potentially listed on the National Marrow Donor Program registry, where it will be reviewed as a potential match for patients in need of stem cell transplants. If it does not meet the criteria for transplant, medical researchers may use it to seek new and more effective medical applications for cord blood stem cells.

There is no cost to you to donate your child's cord blood. Public cord blood banks cover the cost of processing and storage.

Private cord blood banking

Private cord blood banking means storing your baby's cord blood for his or her own future use or a family member's use should the need arise. As you make your decision, consider these facts:

- The cord blood specimen is readily available should your child ever need it for a transplant.
- The stem cells from your baby's umbilical cord blood are a perfect biological match for this same child, which means there are no transplant rejection issues. This increases the chances of a successful transplant.
- Your child will have better access to advances in therapies that could repair his or her body with stem cells if his or her cord blood was saved. This is an even greater consideration for families with histories of leukemia and other diseases that may be treatable by stem cell transplant.
- There is a one in four chance the stored cord blood stem cells will match a sibling. Transplant patients recover better when they receive stem cells from a related donor instead of an unrelated donor.

- Private cord blood banks charge a fee for collection, processing, and annual storage of your baby's cord blood.

Connections<sup>SM</sup> Health Management Programs

Helping you make informed health care decisions

Whether you're up in the middle of the night with a sick child or looking for ways to manage a chronic illness, the Connections Health Management Programs offer resources that can help you get the information and support you need to make the health decisions that are right for you.

Health Coaches

Health Coaches are specially trained health professionals, including nurses, dietitians, and respiratory therapists. They are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to answer your health-related questions and address your concerns.

Spanish-speaking Health Coaches are also available to speak with members and to send them information written in Spanish. Health Coaches can also use the AT&T Language Line for members who speak a foreign language other than Spanish.

To reach a Health Coach, call 1-800-275-2583. Select prompt 1 for member information, then select prompt 2 for Connections.

Disease Management

If you have a chronic condition, such as diabetes or a heart or breathing condition, and need a little extra support, look to our Health Coaches for help. A Health Coach will work side by side with you to help you understand your condition, keep track of your symptoms, provide coping strategies, help you prepare for your next doctor's visit, and offer information and guidance.

Decision Support

Many health conditions and problems, such as back or knee pain or breast or prostate cancer, have more than one solution or treatment. That's why it's important to find the treatment that's right for you, your lifestyle, and your values. A Health Coach can help you understand and weigh your options when you are facing a significant medical decision — from exercise and physical therapy to medication and surgery options — for a variety of conditions. A Health Coach can also mail additional information and videos to you, if appropriate.

Connections provides resources and support for over 20 chronic conditions, including:

- diabetes
- asthma
- heart conditions
- respiratory conditions
- hypertension
- migraine
- gastroesophageal reflux disease (GERD)
- peptic ulcer disease (PUD)
- Crohn's disease
- multiple sclerosis
- Parkinson's disease
- rheumatoid arthritis
- seizure disorders
- systemic lupus erythematosus

Tools and resources

Manage your health and become better informed by visiting the Dialog Center<sup>SM</sup>, an online resource available through www.amerihealthexpress.com. The Dialog Center offers:

- Secure online messaging center. Request information from a Health Coach and receive a response within 24 hours.

- Information and resources.

Learn more about numerous conditions, symptoms, procedures, prevention tips, and treatment options in the Healthwise Knowledgebase<sup>TM</sup>, a comprehensive online encyclopedia.<sup>1</sup> The Healthwise Knowledgebase is also available in Spanish as the Guía de salud práctica Healthwise®.

- Interactive tools. Use personal health calculators, symptom diaries, medication lists, and questionnaires to assess and keep track of your health.

- Personalized lifestyle management programs.

Improve your health and quality of life with one of the lifestyle management programs from HealthMedia®. Programs are available to help you quit smoking, manage your weight, make healthy food choices, manage stress, and prevent and manage back pain. Each program can help you reach your wellness goals by providing a personalized plan based on your answers to a short survey.

If you need help accessing www.amerihealthexpress.com or the Dialog Center, call Customer Service at the number on the back of your medical ID card.
